Double Ring Wedding For Jean Duncombe And Bill Nemeth

Principals in a recent wedding at the Alberta Temple were Betty Jean daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Duncombe, and William Nemeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Nemeth in a double ring ceremony preformed by President Willard Smith.

The bride's gown was of net and chantilly lace over satin and her three quarter length veil fell from a coronet trimmed with pearls and brilliants. Her bouquet was of red roses and white carnations. Bridal attendants were Mrs. Jay Attwood, twin sister of the bride, who wore a Nile green net gown; Mrs. Royden Shurtz in pink and Emma Nemeth in a yellow gown, with each attendant carrying a rose gay of spring flowers. Little Susan Duncombe, the Flower Girl, was dressed in a green frock and carried a dainty basket of flowers. Gordon Snow was the Best Man.

Following the ceremony about 25 relatives and friends enjoyed a turkey dinner and during the evening many others called at the home of the brides parents to wish the young couple success and congratulations. The home was festive with white and pink streamers, bells and spring bouquets.

Carol Duncombe was in charge of the Bride's Book while Mrs. Lucy Duncombe and Mrs. Joyce Thompson arranged the lovely gifts. Mrs. Udine Duncombe presided at the lunch room and those in charge of the tasty lunch were Mesdames Art Garter, J. West and Vera Dawley.

The bride changed to a pink suit with brown accessories before leaving for their honeymoon trip to Arizona and Cleveland, Ohio.

Herb Bishop is spending his weeks in Barnwell farming, returning home on the week-ends.

Nemiscam Notes

A graduation dance was held at Hoping in honor of three Hoping students who are graduating this year. The Mueller orchestra supplied the music.

The girls, Carol Walkes and Majorie Hartley each received a gold locket with her initials on it and Lawrence Hartley received a gold key chain and tie clasp. Jimmie Shearer, as president of the Students' Union presented the gifts and gave a very fine speech for a sixteen year old. The girls wore formal, Carol's being of green eyelet and Majorie's of yellow net-over taffeta.

Carol's grandmother from Fernie was present for the occasion.

Mr. and Mr. B. Hartley are week-end visitors at Granum, visiting with Mrs. Hartley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laugh-ton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley entertained the C. W. L. at their last meeting. There was a good attendance. Mrs. George Bough won the draw which was a lovely vase.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Norlin motored to Medicine Hat to attend the graduation exercises of a friend.

Hoping won their first ball game of season. They play Massinassin next game.

The A.T.A. meeting will be held this Thursday at the Hoping school. Foremost, Conkerville and Etzikon teachers are invited.

There is a new teacher at the Hutterite colony.

Misses Martina and Marina Hartley were home for the week-end. Martina is in training at St. Michaels hospital and Marina is a dietitian there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lynes and little son are on the farm this week-end where Ted is helping put the crop in.

Joe Henline has returned to his home at Aden.

RIDGE-RESERVOIR ROAD CUT --- TEMPORARILY!

Large Group and Officials Attend Meeting

A meeting of high interest was held recently in the Second Ward Recreation Hall to discuss the problem of the Ridge Reservoir Road with a large group of interested citizens present to hear Chamber of Commerce representatives, P.F.R.A. officials, County officials and the Hon. L. C. Halmrast Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, speak for, against and around the subject.

Alma Hancock, President of the Chamber of Commerce, presided and started off by introducing the visiting officials, Mr. Halmrast, Mr. Underhill, Mr. Brown and Mr. Sauder of the P.F.R.A., Dean Grundlock, reeve of the County of Warner and the County Councillors. He then spoke a few words on behalf of the local Chamber of Commerce saying that it might not make as much noise and attract quite so much attention as some other such group it does, nevertheless, a lot of work and is on a par with the best of them.

Mr. Hancock said that it was the Chambers duty to spearhead anything good and to oppose anything detrimental to the District. The C of C, he said, had been right with this project from the beginning and would work increasingly to get the best possible solution to the problem — that being a bridge across the Reservoir in Cards Coulee.

A bit of merriment was caused by Mr. Hancock's explanation of why Mr. Foss, the P.F.R.A. engineer, was not present at the meeting — Mr. Russell had to go back to Edmonton and Mr. Foss had to drive him to Lethbridge to catch the plane. Even though others offered to do the job Mr. Foss insisted on going even though it had been advertised that he would be at the meeting. It was then that Alma suggested that the meeting be carried on according to parliamentary procedure — to avoid the confusion of everyone talking at once — everyone but Mr. Foss that is.

In commentary further Alma said that this is one of the finest communities in Alberta and that no-one here had any intention of opposing any phrase of irrigation development but that justice should be done, that this is a democracy and everyone should have a voice in any matter concerning them and that public officials are, or should be, obligated to listen to representatives of the community. Efforts to get this bridge problem settled have been going on since 1950 but that officials had paid no attention.

Credit was given to Paul Redd for his work in compiling facts and figures regarding this problem. According to official statistics there were only twenty families affected by the decision of the engineer to build the road around the west end of the lake but according to the figures of Mr. Redd there was 275 people in 1950 and many more now. These people have had two roads to come to Raymond on but when the water has backed up in the coulee both of these roads will be covered. The road around the west end of the lake will add six miles per round trip — a big item to be considered.

It was repeatedly stated throughout the meeting that nothing special was being asked for but that the people of this District should be left in possession of the advantages they now possess and that the betterment of the east country should not be gained by taking away the benefits that the people of this area have worked so hard for so many years to gain.

The "guesstimates" of Mr. Foss indicate that the bridge or causeway across the Reservoir would be more costly than the road around the end of the lake but, as was brought out at the meeting, if it cost twice or 3 or 4 times as much it would indeed be worth every penny it cost. According to the present plan more roads are going to be necessary to bring the produce to market and the children to school and these roads are to be paid for by the very people the engineer is supposed to be working to benefit — the taxpayer. The road around the end of the lake may be cheaper now but in the years ahead the extra cost of hauling over the extra miles will more than pay the difference in cost. It was also brought out at the meeting that the P.F.R.A. engineer had made no official estimate as to the cost of this bridge but had only guessed because, he said, it was not engineeringly feasible to build a bridge there because of the quicksand. It was definitely proven by an engineering report that the quicksand there was of no consequence. The engineer had based his assumption on test holes drilled one and one half miles from the site and yet he said that the one test hole drilled by a reputable firm of engineers engaged by the Chamber of Commerce was not enough to base a definite report on.

J. Golden Snow, chairman of the Raymond School Board, was called on for his opinion and he said that the roads now used by the school vans will be changed and that more roads will of necessity be built and that the school children will have many more hours of riding to get to school and back home. It was his opinion that the present roadway should be maintained if at all possible.

Ray Depew, a farmer councillor of MD No. 5, who lives out at the end of the road said that it was vital necessity that families remain on their farms but if this main road was cut and people were forced to go out of their way that there would be a great incentive to leave the farm. If this happened and a couple lean years came along it would be pretty tough on the Town to have to find all the transplanted farmers. He said that Mr. Foss had been sore about this thing for four years and that a recent meeting held in Warner was the first one he had even bothered to give the representatives a hearing — it was his usual practise to turn and walk away. When Ray commented that Mr. Foss had said that a bridge couldn't be built across so short a coulee and yet he built the St. Mary's Dam the crowd burst into applause. The matter of "fall" in the coulee was another reason the P.F.R.A. engineer said that a bridge was not possible but the by saying that the men as there is independent engineer said that this also was fancy and not fact.

Rulon H. Dahl, secretary of the Raymond Irrigation District, gave a very comprehensive report of things as they have affected the Irrigation District and said that organization had tried to remain neutral and not a pressure group from either side. He said that the problem was costing farmers money each day because water could not be turned into ditches until the water was released from the dam to the west, which would flood the road. He said that as far as Mr. Foss' presence at the meeting was concerned he could not see that any benefit would have come of it and that Mr. Foss was not in the best of health. He said that irrigation had pretty well spread from here. The construction of the Jensen Dam had seemed the answer to the local irrigation problem but then the eastern part of the province had clamored so much for water that the S.M.R.D. had been begun.

Mr. Dahl said that 90% of the trouble now confronting this district could have been avoided by better public relations on the part of the P.F.R.A. Farms had been torn up for ditches and laterals and crops had been torn up without any regard for personal rights. In many cases. Six different men of some authority had been taken on tours of the site during the past three years and all had agreed that the bridge should be built if at all possible and yet today the P.F.R.A. said it was a matter of cost and not feasibility. Mr. Dahl said that in comparison to the amounts spent here and elsewhere on this project the cost of the bridge was a mere pittance.

The Irrigation farmers in this area were suffering now, said Mr. Dahl, because the structure for delivering water locally were cut last Fall with no sense or reason being displayed. The gates and controls could have remained as they were for years with out bothering anyone or anything but with no regard for water delivery this Spring they were destroyed.

Mr. Dahl gave a very interesting report on the history of the Irrigation District and of how many thousands of dollars had been saved by the intervention of local men to re-route canals and ditches. Tenders had been called for one canal that would have cost enough to build the bridge if local men had not protested and had the canal re-routed.

Mayor Frank R. Taylor said that the project was very much worthwhile and stressed its great importance to the people of Raymond and District. He said that the bridge would serve for many generations and that this end the facts that a detour around the end of the lake would require two roads to be built which would probably cost as much as the bridge. Mr. Taylor said that if a proper hearing years ago the present friction and contention would not be necessary. He also commented on the reduced land values the detour would create, saying that men had worked for many yrs to accumulate holding that are now being cut into pieces by the lake and that the extra mileage would just be adding insult to injury.

Mr. Taylor expressed the appreciation of the Town to the men who had done the work on this project and also to the visitors for their presence.

Dean Gundlock, chairman of the County Council, began his remarks in the country and that they were by saying that the men on the Council, were as honest and hardworking men as there is in the country and that they were all working for the benefit of everyone. He said that the Council had received a delegation from Raymond asking their help with this problem and that the only thing the Council had control of was the road and that they did not sanction the closing of the road then and did not now! But, he said, water must go fast and so a compromise must be affected. He suggested the road be cut for water to go east immediately and that the matter be reviewed at a future date and something definite be decided then. He pointed out that the cut in the road would be a temporary solution to the problem that would serve the best interests of all concerned.

Mr. Halmrast was the last speaker of the evening and started off by telling of his duties as Minister of Agriculture and that each locality had what they termed as the most important problem in the province. He said that he had toured the site and had heard the preliminary discussions and that he had lived in the south and had seen the results of irrigation and was all for it. He told of his recent tour with P.F.R.A. officials over the 700,000 irrigated acres in the Province and of the tasty chicken dinner they had and the strong coffee they had served themselves at one of the camps down east. After talking around the subject for several minutes Mr. Halmrast said that some Prairie Farm Assistance Act money is now being spent on irrigation projects which are a permanent remedy for drought.

Mr. Halmrast said that several yrs ago it was "guesstimated" that the bridge would cost $100,000 later this was raised to $216,000 and then the engineer said there was quicksand there and the bridge would have to be built on piles driven down 30 ft and that it would cost $450,000 — all this without ever having made an engineering report on it! And all this time it was a matter of engineering feasibility. It was Mr. Foss' suggestion that the road be built around the west end of the lake.

After years of talking about feasibility L. B. Thompson, director of water resources, said that is not probable that the government would be willing to spend the money to put the bridge across.

A question period followed Mr. Halmrast's remarks with Mr. Gundlock being asked what the nature of the compromise would be to which he answered that the road would "temporarily" be cut and the road detoured so that the water could be used but that the cutting of the road would definitely be of a temporary nature.

The Jim Grants were the guests of honor recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mirza Pack when a lovely chicken dinner was enjoyed by the Stuart Cards, Leo Brewerton, Lincoln Woods, Roy Halls, Murray Holts and Vivian King after which Rook was played. The prizes went to the Murray Holts for High Score and Mildred Wood for Low.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Redd entertained Wednesday evening in honor of retiring members of the Genealogical Society in the fourth Ward, the Milo Vances, C. D. Petersons, and Gordon Andersons. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woolley have been chosen to head the society, the position recently held by Mr. and Mrs. Vance.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Wilde and Mrs. Herb Wilde and families motored to Waterton Sunday evening to try their luck at fishing — no luck — but had a lot of fun anyway.

Evening Performance For Stampede Day July 1st

The Raymond Stampede plans are progressing very favorably and indications are that we will have a first-rate show. The rodeo will get under way at 6 o'clock on Wednesday, June 30, and at 1:30 on the 1st of July, following the Mammoth Parade at 10 a.m.

An evening performance has been arranged with Blair Holland of radio fame bringing out some outstanding western artists from his radio show. A branding contest between the Church Ranch and Meeks Bros. will also take place at the evening show and plans are being made for a couple of other special attractions.

Two dances are scheduled for the night of the First with Johnny Gibbons in charge of a square dance at the Pavilion and the Taber Tempo Kings supplying the music for a modern dance at the Opera House.

Don't forget to hunt up a good saddle bronc to enter in the Bucking Horse Contest — $25 will be given as a prize for the best saddle-bronc to buck at the Stampede. Get your entries in to either Ted Meeks or Cliff Williams before 15th of June.

Mrs. Beatrice Anderson of Vancouver and her children spent a couple of days in town this week visiting relatives and friends. She was the houseguest of Mrs. Junius Anderson.

Mrs. Heber Allen returned home Tuesday evening from Los Angeles.

Bruce Court celebrated his birthday with a surprise party on Saturday when the little friends with whom he was playing were treated to birthday cake and other goodies.

Legion Brings Circus To Town

Under the sponsorship of the local branch of the Canadian Legion Welfare Fund, the Odyssean Circus came to town on the 25th of May, and put on one of the best shows ever seen here. This Circus is owned and operated by Canadians from Edmonton, with their base at Penticton B.C. They cover B.C., Alberta, and Saskatchewan.

It would be difficult to pick out any act better than the others, and a full programme was run off. Features of the show were Dale Madden at the Hammond Organ, the Wire balancing and juggling act of the Les Aurley troupe, the aerial act of the Gillette, mother and daughter, with their comedy on the slack rope. The trapeze act and the slowing of the Lazellias caused lots of laughter, and the trapeze act of Lois Stillian, together with her trained Monkey and Chimpanzee delighted the crowd. Capt. Guy Leslie with his trained seal, and the antics of trainer Morgan Berry's elephants are worth special mention, together with Mr. Ody's dogs. The whole show was excellent throughout, and some 400 saw the performance. In view of the calibre of the show, it really deserved better support, and it is generally agreed that the show was one of the best to come here and many are looking forward to its return.

Raymond Students Excel At Music Festival

May 17 to 21, 1954

The Alberta Musical Festival is one of the high lights of the school year to us. It is the one big event that enables us to join with the surrounding districts in developing and exhibiting our cultural tastes and achievements in the musical and speech arts lines. The competition with other pupils not only provides an incentive to excel but exhilarates all who participate. Learning to take the judges criticism and decisions are educative experience that tend to engender a wholesome outlook and attitudes.

This year again we are pleased to see that the quality of training along these lines has been very high. The bulk of this responsibility has been carried by Mrs. Kay B. Redd, our music director, Miss Geraldine Palmer and Mrs. C. A. Hudson merit special mention also in their choral speech training. Enteries this year were in solos, duets, trios choruses, choral speech and individual verse speaking. Of the 37 classes we received 30 place ments, 17 first and 13 seconds.

Our total school population is about 850. Of this 428 pupils participated in the events we entered. This may be broken down into those who took part in choruses 245, solos, duets and trios 100, choral speech and verse speaking 83. So that a remarkable large number of our boys and girls have been exposed to these activities.

Local Painters Land Big Contract
Brown and Minion, local painters, have been awarded a contract for the painting of thirty-two "99" service stations in southern Alberta. They sure wish the weather would hurry up and settle down to being summer.

Nottingham, was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cope and their daughter Maureen when they lived in England but they are still looking around before deciding where to make their home in Canada. They arrived in Raymond last Friday and are the guests of Eph Gough while in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Cope who have two sons still in England, are finding it rather difficult to adjust to our climate and are not enjoying our lovely hot weather quite as much as we are. However, even with their homesickness they are happy to be here.

Deb Gough became acquainted with this family while on his mission in England.

Mrs. Rudolph Tollestrup entertained at Brunch for Mrs. Hazel Brunton last Week at which chatting was enjoyed with Mrs. Allan, Mrs. LaVon Dahl, and Mrs. Larosa Kirkham.

If you have thought the birds were singing particularly beautifully the past couple of weeks, you were probably hearing the Ladies Music Club practicing for the Music Festival. These ladies have been meeting at six and six-thirty for several days in preparation for the Festival, —and after coming first they were sure it was all worth while.

WORLD'S GREATEST TRAVEL SYSTEM

RIDGE-RESERVOIR ROAD

Mr. Halmrast was for a definite statement as to whether it was a question of cost or construction to which he replied that Mr. Foss said it was due to the soft spots but the government said it was a matter of cost — although no-one had made more than a "guesstimate" of the job. He also expressed the idea of everyone present when he said that a well-qualified engineer should not have to guess.

George Ralph suggested that the P.F.R.A. engineer had set up a dictatorship.

It was stated that the road around the lake would cost $35,000.

The suitability of this road was seriously questioned.

M. T. King stated that as far as could be determined the people of this district had never received any of the P.F.R.A. money that is now being used to pay for irrigation projects.

The question of decrease in valuation of the land was brought up and Mr. Frodsham, representing the Church Ranch, said that the $1,000 acres in his responsibility would decrease considerably and that the loss of the present roadway would make it almost impossible for any of the cattle from that Ranch to be shipped from the Raymond stockyards.

Farrell Nelson of Stirling said that the waste water should, by some means, be made available now.

Alma Hancock said that everyone realized the great need for water but that it should be held as a club to make it easier for the P.F.R.A. engineer to get his own way.

It was stated that over 20,300 tons of material was hauled over the road in 1950.

Paul Redd asked if there was any recourse if the road was once cut and Mr. Halmrast quoted Mr. Foss as saying that if the word "temporary" is used there is recourse.

It was suggested that an agreement be drawn up giving "temporary" use of the roadway to the P.F.R.A. and that the situation be reviewed at a later date.

Mr. Cronkite of New Dayton who is a member of the County Council said that in almost all cases the P.F.R.A. engineer (Mr. Foss) had put the cart before the horse and had pulled his way through regardless of what it meant to the taxpayers who were his employer.

It was moved by Paul Redd that the road be cut and that a committee be formed to draw up an agreement that the situation be reviewed in six month time and that Mr. Halmrast be present at the meeting then. The motion was carried and the road was cut and people of Raymond and District have lost the use of their road — "temporarily"

W. I. News

The regular monthly meeting of the Raymond W. I. was held at the Legion Hall, on Friday, May 14th.

With President Mrs. P. Hall presiding, meeting opened with members singing, 'Juanita', followed by a Flag Salute led by Mrs. S. Donaldson, and Creed, led by Mrs. L. Adams. Then roll call was answered by 12 members each quoting a verse from the Bible.

A generous response to the Social Service program, calling for used clothing, and diapers, was received.

Dr. H. Taylor gave a very interesting paper on 'Health' and touched on several subjects. He quoted several superstitions people have, and dispelled these. He told what is being done to prevent Polio, and hoped in time that Polio may be less feared than now. He stated that accidents in the home cause more troubles than most people are aware of. This could be overcome to a large extent by education. The largest percentage of accidents are caused by falls, burns, inhaling foreign substances, and by the mouth.

An appeal from the Salvation Army was received, and a donation voted.

Another quilt was completed by the members, which settled $4.00 for our W. I. funds.

Mrs. L. Adams then gave a reading 'The Olden Days and the New' after which a contest was enjoyed, by making paper flowers, the first prize going to Mrs. S. Donaldson, and consolation to Mrs. C. Rolfsen.

Mrs. C. Rolfsen won the door prize, a vase donated by Mrs. M. Holland.

Mrs. I. Kitchen donated a birthday cake, which went to Mrs. R. Heggie.

A delicious lunch was served by hostesses, Mrs. W. Greep, Mrs. L. Adams, and Mrs. C. Rolfsen.
